

This document explains how to register with the DFL SSO, apply for an account and log in to the portals that are activated per user.

1

Onboarding for the DFL-SSO

In the event that you have been provided with a login by the DFL (or one of its subsidiaries), you will usually receive an onboarding email from the sender "noreply@access.bundesliga.com" with the subject "Welcome to the DFL Single Sign-On".

This onboarding email lists the portals for which you have been given access, the request to enter a password for this account and the link to the DFL Single Sign-On. In the event that your account was created as part of a portal change (e.g. the Commentary Live System), you will not receive this onboarding email but will be informed of the changed login by your respective contact person.

In this case, you must also log in to the DFL SSO for the first time using the e-mail address you used to log in to the respective portal. The most important steps are described below.

Account activation at the DFL-SSO with password link

If you have received an onboarding email, please start directly with the assignment of the new password for the DFL Single Sign-On. To do this, please follow the instructions below:

1. Click on the link in the email
2. You will be redirected to the DFL Single Sign-On and the following interface will open up

You will now be taken back to the home page where you can enter your email address and new password. When logging in for the first time, you will be asked to confirm the data protection agreement. After confirmation, you will now see the portals available in the DFL SSO. You can recognise the portals that have been activated for you by the fact that they are not "greyed out" (e.g. Bundesliga Photo Database). By clicking on a portal tile, you can jump directly to the respective portal and continue your activities as usual.

Account activation without onboarding email

In the event that you have been contacted by your direct contact that you will have to log in to the DFL SSO in future, we have created your account as part of the portal changeover. For technical reasons, no onboarding emails will be sent here but users will be informed otherwise. To activate the account you have created, please proceed as follows:

1. Go to the page <https://access.bundesliga.com/>
2. Click here on "Forgot your Password"

DFL Single-Sign-On Portal

This is the general log-in page for your Bundesliga content. After your log-in you will be redirected automatically to the various platforms
